

Database

The TKRP database was developed to encompass the majority of identified Core Traditional Knowledge Fields, for example, 'Plants' 'Story Places', and 'Animals'.

Each knowledge area is a specific field with its own sub-categories that store the cultural information.

The TKRP database has its first stages complete and has been disbursed across to TKRP communities.

Clan groups are now recording and storing knowledge ready to sort and categorise information suitable for the education project. TS have been involved in supporting the expertise side of the development and is also continuing to support further development stages.

Dr Tommy George

The Laura men doing traditional burning